Sky Faces — A Glimpse III: The One That Looked Like Shrek

A single formation within a shifting sky sequence. The image is presented first in its original context, followed by a cropped view that highlights the shape more clearly.

Context

Cropped Detail

Some may see a face. Others will see only clouds. Both can be true.

One of them looked like Shrek.